PROJECTS

MERN Expense Tracker

- Developed a full-stack expense tracking application using the MERN stack to help users record, categorize, and analyze daily spending. Implemented secure user authentication, CRUD operations for transactions, and real-time expense summaries. Integrated interactive charts and responsive UI to provide clear financial insights and spending patterns.

Energy Consumption Prediction – Regression Analysis

- Created a machine learning model to predict household energy usage based on temperature, appliance data, and time patterns. Applied feature engineering and regression algorithms to achieve accurate consumption predictions.
